

Washington, DC – On Thursday, Chaves County Commissioners Greg Nibert and Michael Trujillo presented Congressman Harry Teague with a plaque from the Chaves County Commission on behalf of the Citizens of Chaves County. The plaque was to thank Congressman Harry Teague for his efforts to keep the International Law Enforcement Academy in Roswell. Congressman Teague worked to prevent the State Department from moving the ILEA overseas and secured a 10% budget increase for the facility. The commissioners were in Washington to discuss issues of concern for Chaves County with the Congressman.

The inscription on the plaque read: “Thanks Harry! In recognition of your tireless efforts as our Congressman in keeping the International Law Enforcement Academy in Roswell, Chaves County New Mexico the citizens of Chaves County extend their thanks and appreciation. Presented by the Chaves County Board of Commissioners.” The plaque was signed by the members of the Chaves County Board of Commissioners, Michael Trujillo, Kyle D “Smiley” Wilson, Kim Chesser, Richard C. Taylor, and Chairman Greg Nibert.
